

EMMA FULLER (OC 2002 – 2007)

Emma Fuller joined Caterham School in the Third Form and later became Head Girl, leaving in 2007 to attend the University of Oxford where she got a First class honours degree in Physiological Sciences and was Vice Captain for the University Netball Squad.

After leaving university Emma gained valuable experience, trying her hand in a few different industries and travelled many continents of the world, including volunteering with local communities in Swaziland, Africa.

In 2011 Emma joined the gourmet yoghurt brand The Collective. A start-up at the time, Emma joined as the fourth employee, seeing huge potential in the brand and a great opportunity. Six years later Emma is one of a team of 25 and has helped grow the business from scratch to a £31m brand with products available in over 5000 stores across the UK.

Emma's current role as a Senior Brand Manager sees her take new innovative product concepts from initial ideas through to launch within all the major UK supermarkets. Emma is also managing The Collective's growth plans in Europe. Over her six years at The Collective Emma has had experience in all aspects of running a business and has thrived on the challenges and also the opportunities provided by working in a small business where you really can take ownership and make a difference every day.

Emma continues to remain good friends with a large number of Old Caterhamians and even got married to one...becoming Mrs Gooden in December 2017!
