

BENJAMIN HORNE (OC 2002-2009)

Departing Caterham in 2009, Ben moved north to study Ancient History and Classics at the University of Edinburgh. After graduating he worked for Waitrose as part of their business expansion into Scotland, before leaving to work for AirBnB. Living beyond the wall for nearly ten years, he also briefly worked in Ghana as part of the Department for International Development's Overseas programme. Returning back to the South East in 2018 Ben has been working in International Freight with all its challenges, but can be found travelling back to Scotland as often as is allowed.